NEW BOOK

Mikhail N. Katkov: A Political Biography 1818-1887, by Dr. Martin Katz of the Department of History was published recently by Mouton & Co., The Hague, as part of its Studies in European History series. The book is an introduction to a neglected yet important aspect of nineteenth-century Russian intellectual history—conservative Westernism. Katkov's ideological milieu has interest because of dilemma between modernization and traditionalism which rests at its very root. The book is based on the author's research in Finland, the Soviet Union, Western Europe and North America.

SUMMER COURSE IN ROME AND CHARTER FLIGHT OFFERED

The Department of Classics is offering Classics 459, Roman Archaeology, in Rome, during July and August. In conjunction with the class, a special flight to Rome and back has been arranged at group rates. However all University staff and students are eligible for the flight, whether or not they are taking the summer course.

This is the first venture of this type, and the Department hopes it will lead to the establishment of a Canadian academy in Rome, offering courses in the arts, history, household economics and political science, as well as classics.

The instructor is Dr. G. Hermansen, Professor of Classics. He had studied Roman archaeology in Italy and has published works on Roman history and religion.

Classics 459 is designed for people who have senior undergraduate standing in classics or history and is open to students from across Canada. Enrollment will be limited to 25. Classics 459 is part of the University's Summer Session and will be recognized as a credit course.

Tuition fee is $100, plus room and board at approximately $125 per month. Travel expenses in Italy are not expected to exceed $75. Applications should be submitted by April 1, 1967.

Fare on the charter flight will be $358.00, Montreal to Rome and return, by Alitalia Airlines. Departure from Montreal is at 8:40 p.m., July 10; the group will arrive back in Montreal at 6:25 p.m., August 28.

Further information about both flight and course may be obtained from the Department of Classics.

SHARE CAMPAIGN ALMOST OVER

The World University Service's annual Share Campaign at The University of Alberta is rapidly drawing to a close. Those who have not yet contributed and would like to do so may mail donations to the WUS Office, Students' Union Building, or to either of the faculty representatives on the WUS Committee, Neville Linton, Department of Political Science, or A. J. B. Hough, Student Counselling Services.
